Former Emperor, Bedecked in Insignia, Present at Formal Announcement.

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 9 (Associated Press).—The bride of former Emperor William, the Princess Hermine of Russia, will assume the title of Queen Wilhelmina of Prussia, according to an announcement made today during a preliminary reception to friends of the ex-Kaiser and his fiancée at the castle here.

The ex-Kaiser was attired in his favorite uniform of an admiral of the fleet, with his breast covered with a multitude of pre-war decorations and his left sleeve showing the mourning band.

The ex-royal showed many courtesies to his guests. He was in high good humor, uttering the company with many anecdotes.

"I shall soon be the happiest man in the world," he said, and then added gravely: "No longer will I be called the solitary exile of Doorn, from this day on."

The Princess of Reuss appeared equally happy. She wore a toilette of state, with a dark veil slightly covering a jeweled diadem.

The only member of the Hohenzollern family present was the ex-emperor's fourth son, August Wilhelm, although the ceremony was attended by a large number of German civil servants, former generals, court officials, members of the nobility and their wives, including Count von Moltke, together with several Dutch professors and many members of the Dutch nobility.

Doorn Castle was adorned with bouquets and garlands of flowers which were arriving daily, the gifts of admirers and friends of the ex-emperor in many parts of the world.

The registry book was signed by many hundreds of visitors. The book was placed in a room in the new part of the castle, which is designed after the architecture of the Middle Ages. It is the building commonly used as the offices of the former Emperor's Guards.

According to the present arrangements, the marriage ceremony on November 5 will be performed in the chapel of the castle. This will be in harmony with Dutch law, for Baron Schommel-Pennick, van der Oye, the Mayor of Doorn, will officiate on the occasion and deliver the customary speech. The church ceremony will be official and will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Vogel of Potsdam, former court chaplain, who will preach the sermon utilizing the royal couple in wedding.

By order of the former German monarch no photographers or journalists were allowed to attend the ceremony. They are now being carefully excluded from the castle grounds by the guards, who have been instructed likewise to keep a close watch on any one suspected of having firearms or other dangerous weapons.

ZITA SELLS HER JEWELS; WOULD QUIT SPAIN

Wants to Live Near Budapest.
Sa's Royalist Leader.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 9 (Associated Press).—Former Empress Zita is anxious to leave Spain, where poverty compels her "to play the poor relation," according to Count Joseph Karolyi, the royalist leader who inspired the royalists to bring her back to Hungary.

The former Empress has sold all her jewels, according to the Count. The income from her estate in Hungary is insufficient to meet her expenses because of Hungary's depreciated currency. She is willing to live with her children in a castle near Budapest, but will promise not to interfere in politics, the royalist leader claims.

Chauncey Olcott, Here From Europe, Ill, Radios Doctor

Singing Comedian Poisoned by
Fish in Paris—Orbita Rides Out Hurricane.

Chauncey Olcott, singing comedian, returned last night so seriously ill on board the Orbita of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Line, that a wireless message was sent to his physician, Dr. John A. Stillwell, of 9 East Forty-ninth street, to meet the ship at the foot of Morton street. Mr. Olcott was accompanied by Mrs. Olcott. They sailed from here June 24, on the same ship, to visit England in search of plays that might be transformed into Irish dramas.

Although it was said on the ship's arrival that Mr. Olcott was very ill, he appeared within a short time heavily clothed and leaning on Dr. Stillwell's arm. Mr. Olcott said he could not discuss his trip, as he was suffering from ptomaine poisoning contracted while in Paris.

Dr. Stillwell was reassuring, saying that Mr. Olcott would soon be well. Mrs. Olcott, who appeared on deck later, said her husband was "a very sick man, and that he became ill after eating shell fish in Paris. She said he would be taken at once to their home at 17 Sutton place.

Charles E. Le Barbier, formerly a District Attorney under Eugene H. Philbin, said that with Mrs. Le Barbier he had been in Italy, France and England for several months.

"Europe is one ferment, and the race war has never so great an influence as it has here," said Mr. Le Barbier. "They are ready to spring at each other's throats, and the only thing that holds them back is lack of money. France is holding out for a time, while everything done by Germany seems to be camouflaged. One cannot come back without feeling how valuable are the oceans which make us isolated from her horrors."

Francis M. Savage, president of the Northwest Savings Bank of Washington, returned with Mrs. Savage, having made a tour of South America before going to Europe. He said that people here do not realize how clever the South Americans are in financial matters. Through export duties on articles not competitively produced elsewhere, he said, they collect a large part of their revenues needed for Government expenses, thereby escaping to a large extent internal taxation. In their sales of nitrates, borax, coffee and other products they are collecting their revenues from other nations, he added.

"I fancy," said Mr. Savage, "that soon a class must take place in a larger burden on the marvelous productive resources of these countries in order to meet increased expenditures."

W. B. Haverton, for fifteen years public administrator in Kings and county, came back from a trip to Africa with Mrs. Haverton.

Last Wednesday and Thursday the Orbita, which came in from Hamburg, Southampton and Cherbourg, ran into a cyclonic storm about 300 miles east of the Grand Banks. The hurricane, beginning in the southeast and veering to the north, blew down the ship, and it was not replaced for six hours. Capt. J. P. Matthews, the ship's commander, said the wind reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour and blew the crests of the mountains, snow, drenching the ship with spray. After the storm the passengers prepared a testimonial signed by all aboard the ship, commending the first seamanship exhibited during the hurricane.

ADRIAN H. LARKIN'S DAUGHTER IS ENGAGED TO A. P. LOENING

Announcement Made Yesterday to Friends Interests Society.

One of the most interesting engagements of the season was announced yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Adrian H. Larkin of New York and Southampton, who informed their friends that their daughter, Miss Sarah E. Larkin, is to be the bride of Mr. Albert Palmer Loening, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Loening.

Miss Larkin made her debut several years ago. She is a daughter of Mr. Larkin, who married Miss Vera A. H. Cravath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Cravath. She also has a younger brother, Lawrence Larkin.

After attending the Chapin School she became a member of the Junior League, in which she has been an active worker. She went abroad last year with the American Committee for Devastated France and she has done a good deal of systematic work in New York hospitals.

Mr. Loening has been identified with aviation since the United States entered the war. At that time he was on the Mexican border as a Sergeant-Major with the Seventh Regiment. He was transferred to the air service and served in the A. E. F. as a Major.

Following the war he and his brother, Rudolph R. Loening, formed the aeronautical corporation bearing their name. Mr. Loening has been identified with aviation since the United States entered the war. At that time he was on the Mexican border as a Sergeant-Major with the Seventh Regiment. He was transferred to the air service and served in the A. E. F. as a Major.

Arrangements have been completed for the marriage of Miss Edith Marie Arnold, daughter of the late William Francis Arnold and of Mrs. Arnold, to Mr. Douglas Bailey Class, which will take place on the afternoon of October 19, at the home of the bride's mother in Plainfield, N. J. Mrs. Charles P. Grimmer, Jr., sister of the bride, will be the principal guest of honor, and Miss Ethel Doughty of Brooklyn, a cousin, will be the bridesmaid.

Miss Sarah E. Larkin.

Miss Ethel Pyne, Young Soprano, Has First Recital.

Youthful Freshness of a Pretty Voice Enjoyed by Audience.

By W. J. HENDERSON.

The long series of recitals which will invite music lovers to Aeolian Hall was begun last evening. The beginning was made not by one of the artists who have already formed their way across the threshold of the temple of music and perhaps some distance toward its high altar but by a newcomer, among the suffrages of an audience kind in its attitude, as all New York concert audiences are, and ready to bestow its applause on sincere effort even when that did not lead to convincing achievement.

The beginner of the recital season was a singer, a soprano, Miss Ethel Pyne, who had some valuable assets. Of these, perhaps, the most precious was the youthful freshness of the pretty soprano voice. It is always pleasant to hear a voice in the light of its own nature before it has been clouded by hard and weary dulled its natural qualities. Miss Pyne also showed that she had feeling and in some of her singing there was an ardor that communicated itself to her hearers.

But this singer might have been wiser had she postponed her New York debut till her vocal technique had reached a further stage of development. Naturally she had prepared a program of acting in its range of styles and expression. Only singers of the first rank can do justice to Brahms's best songs, and hard work dulled its natural qualities. Miss Pyne also showed that she had feeling and in some of her singing there was an ardor that communicated itself to her hearers.
